Building Social Emotional Intelligence

Bena Kallick co-directs the Institute for Habits of Mind. She is the program director for Eduplanet21, based on the Understanding by Design[®] framework. Dr. Kallick consults with school districts, state departments of education, professional organizations, and public agencies throughout the United States and abroad.

Her areas of focus include personalized learning, group dynamics, creative and critical thinking, and alternative assessment strategies in the classroom.

Mike Anderson has been an educator for more than 25 years. A Milken Educator Award recipient, New Hampshire Teacher of the Year Finalist, and published author, he consults with schools in rural, urban, and suburban settings.

He spent many years as a presenter, consultant, author, and developer for Northeast Foundation for Children, a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping create safe, joyful, and challenging classrooms and schools.
